"I HOPE THE CLIENT FEELS WHAT WE ALL WANT FROM OUR INTIMATE SPACES... WELLNESS, CALM AND BEAUTY."

—AMY KLOSTERMAN, AB DESIGN ELEMENTS

A GLAM SLAM

"The intention of this space was to give the homeowner a feeling of luxury... a soothing but glamorous space that would incorporate unique details and subtle layers of sparkle," says principal designer Amy Klosterman of AB Design Elements. "This client didn't want trendy—she wanted classic, elegant and different." Klosterman delivered by commissioning a local artist to transform a Victoria + Albert free-standing tub into a work of art. "I had seen colored tubs but not patterned ones, so we reviewed inspiration images of floral patterns and textures, and commissioned local artist Anna Sadler with Surface Refinements to render the idea of the pattern on top of a linen-like base pattern using a metallic pewter product that she had," says Klosterman. A consignment furniture bench and a crystal chandelier from Hinkley's Lighting Factory drove home the glitzy feel of the space. "One of our challenges was how to evenly light the 10-foot-tall mica-encrusted tub wall," she notes. "We ended up using a semirecessed linear LED channel from PureEdge Lighting sourced through Sun Lighting in Tempe." The result is an oasis of relaxation with a touch of ritz. "I hope the client feels what we all want from our intimate spaces... wellness, calm and beauty."
